-- Union Levels False Allegations in Effort to Organize Workforce

-- Allutiiq officials are outraged but not surprised by the false allegations being leveled by the SEIU labor union.

As the company said in a statement to the Associated Press in a story filed Tuesday, Sept. 6, "The SEIU's allegations are just another tactic in a barrage of unwarranted attacks by a union against an Alaska-Native owned company trying to do its part in helping keep our military infrastructure safe and secure."

The AP story, filed yesterday noted the U.S. Army "praised Allutiiq" and said the company is helping "maintain a high level of security at the bases."
